

CUBAN REBELS ROUTED BY ZAYAS FORCES

GERMAN PEOPLE, AT POLLS, APPROVE REPARATIONS PLAN

COMMUNISTS STRONG IN VOTE; SOCIALISTS LOSE PRESTIGE.

COALITION WINS

Von Bernstorff Returned to House; Other Well Known Leaders Victorious.

Herlin—The promised "big coalition" of the moderates, comprising the socialists, clerical democrats and people's parties, is regarded as assured on the basis of partial returns from yesterday's parliamentary election.

Thus, the people have apparently placed their seal of approval on the Dawes reparations report, as the leaders of the moderates, including Foreign Minister Stresemann, based their campaign on the adoption and execution of the report as a sure cure for the country's ailments.

Coalition Is Strong.

While the counting of ballots is necessarily slow, due to the large number of party tickets in the field, indications are that the coalition will have sufficient seats in the Reichstag to force through the enabling legislation required by the Dawes report with little help from the independent factions.

The nationalists and communists made some gains, but the vote pulled by General Ludendorff's ultra-nationalists did not come up to expectations, and the result indicates decisive failure of the reactionary and racial communists. The bulk of the vote was heavy and it is probable that at least 15 new deputies will be added to the Reichstag, increasing the membership to 475.

75 Per Cent Vote.

Returns from 22 of the 75 electoral districts showed election of 21 candidates, including 58 socialists, 23 communists, 12 democrats, 25 centrists, 32 German people's party, 42 nationalists, and 12 Bavarian people's party. The remaining 53 districts were divided among the various other parties.

About 75 per cent of the electoral votes throughout the Reich.

Among the notables elected are Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States; General Ludendorff, head of the extreme nationalist; Chancellor Marx, former chancellor; and the young Prince von Bismarck, grandson of the iron chancellor, and Admiral von Tirpitz, the minister of the navy during the World war.

Available returns are sufficient to show roughly how the new Reichstag will be constituted. The socialists lost between 50 and 60 seats, chiefly to the coalition.

Returned as Democrat.

Von Bernstorff was returned as a democratic deputy. His vote in a Schleswig-Holstein district was practically the same as in 1920, German nationalists there showed a gain at the expense of the people's party, while the ultra-nationalists gained to the loss of the socialists.

Three German nationalists, two members of the people's party, one democrat, four socialists and one communist.

Many Good Quarters Offered for a Few Small Dimes

Once upon a time not so very long ago—about a week ago, to be specific, a man named Mr. Countermeyer, whose address was Care Universal Grocery, found it necessary to seek new quarters in Janesville.

He wanted a furnished apartment or house, for small family.

He realized it would be a hopeless task, requiring the best part of an ordinary life-time to go out personally and tell all the landlords in Janesville just what he wanted.

So what did he do but send out a little messenger who interviewed all these landlords in one day.

In other words he employed a Gazette classified ad and by spending a few small dimes, he had ten different quarters offered him. From this lot of offers it was easy for him to pick out just what he wanted.

If you don't know exactly where to find the quarters you want, just call 2500 and ask for an ad-taker.

Cabinet Post for William Butler Seen If Coolidge Is Victorious

RUM DISTRIBUTION IS TESTIFIED IN DAUGHERTY QUIZ

5,000 CASES OF HIGH GRADE LIQUORS IN CHICAGO DEAL.

JUDGE MENTIONED

Kin of Official Among Those Who Obtained Stock, Says Committee Witness.

BULLETIN.

Washington.—Former Attorney General Daugherty personally intervened in the litigation over New England railroad commissions. It was charged today during the senate inquiry, to remove the New Haven line from the necessity of obeying the anti-trust law.

Washington.—Loyal steps by which the Chicago and North company, a Chicago liquor house, distributed 5,000 cases of high grade liquors among its stockholders, and escaped penalties under the Volstead act, were described today in the senate Daugherty investigation.

Charles A. Williams, attorney for the concern, explained the plan by which the corporation was dissolved, and its assets of whiskey, wines and cordials turned over to 120 Chicago citizens who bought out the eight or nine original stockholders.

Though the public enforcement unit has instituted prosecution against officials who issued the permits, Williams insisted that the transaction was entirely legal.

He took to stockholders.

Senator Wheeler, democrat of Montana, committee prosecutor, tried in vain to get the witness to admit that the 120 citizens who bought stock but were going to get whiskey.

The government seized about 1,700 or 1,800 cases of the whiskey during the distribution. Williams said, but the balance not to stockholders. Litigation in the case still is in progress.

Senator Wheeler got the witness to identify a Dr. Isham, one of those who got the stock, as a "brother-in-law of Federal Judge Carpenter" and another, a "Mr. Birmingham" as a "son-in-law or brother-in-law of Judge Carpenter."

Politics Vital Issue.

"Why bring in Judge Carpenter?" asked Paul Howard, attorney for H. M. Daugherty.

"I should say after a while," Senator Wheeler retorted.

Williams identified himself as a republican ward leader in Chicago and one of those indicted in the liquor distribution transaction. Birmingham and Isham were not identified. The only people who were prosecuted, Williams said, were "those who charged their political allegiance from Brundage"—the state attorney general.

Republican organization leaders, counting on support from some democrats, have lined up their forces in a battle for a final fight against the measure.

Choose Your Own Way of Observing Sunday--Scribner

Question of what is proper for Sunday observance must be answered by each man for himself, the Rev. Frank J. Scribner, pastor of the Congregational church, declared Sunday at the morning service. He said that the question is not one of the day, these being rest, recreation and a third which may be called compensation.

"Sunday is a privilege to be used, not a rule to be followed," said Mr. Scribner. "The question is not 'What shall we do on Sunday?' but 'What shall we do with Sunday?' It is not a matter of deciding what sort of conduct comports with the day's sanctity, but of the best use of the opportunities the day offers."

"Sunday is given us for three purposes. The first is rest. That requires no discussion. Industrial civilization has given us all the means to convince us of the sheer necessity of one day's rest in seven. The second is recreation, in the real sense of the term, recreation, meaning a change of scene, a change of work, a change of place, a change of life. It is a day to get acquainted with one's family. And it is a day to get acquainted with one's God."

"The final purpose of the day is to put into one word. Some have called it 'compensation,' and the word is as good as 'rest.' It is an opportunity to supply the things that the other days of the week fail to give us. It is a day to renew acquaintance with oneself--for which there is need in the hurried lives we live today. It is a day to get acquainted with one's family. And it is a day to get acquainted with one's God."
